Headteacher's daily blog

Date: Wednesday 25th March 2020

Dear all,

Despite all the challenges the whole country is facing at the moment, it is wonderful to hear about some great examples of generosity and thoughtfulness. Yesterday one of our parents kindly brought a lot of food products to the school from the local MacDonald's which is shutting down for the time being. A quick Facebook post from Cringleford Hub meant that several people came along to pick up eggs, milk and other items which otherwise would have been thrown away.

The Year 6 pupils and some other children from other year groups know that Paddy Venner comes into school to deliver his Activ8 programme and also runs some one-to-one Life Coach sessions. Paddy is keen to encourage our older pupils in particular and has sent a message out to give some ideas for their time in isolation. The link below is to his YouTube channel which is registered by YouTube as child-safe (i.e no adverts, communication channels or comments are available).

He is also available to work with any traumatised or overly-worried families, adults and children via Skype (which would be a private arrangement he would make). If this is of interest, please contact Paddy via his email address: paddyvenner@theyourevolution.com

If you are looking for a fun family challenge which only requires you to have some wool and a fork, why not make a host of pompom chicks to celebrate spring / Easter! I would love to see some of your efforts - just email me a photo - head@cringleford.norfolk.sch.uk

Finally, Mr Colbeck, our PE instructor, sends best wishes to you all. He had been coming into school to help with PE this week, but today was his last day. However, he is working on getting some great PE ideas and challenges together to share with you and carry out at home - so watch this space!

Wishing you all the best,

Mr Henery
