

Henry at Whitlingham Broad

Hello again everyone in Language Group.

How was your first week without school? I hope that you are keeping busy as well as enjoying some free time with your families. I was in school last week and there were just a few children in so it seemed very quiet compared to normal.

Luckily we are still able to go outside every day, so I have been enjoying long walks with Chester and my boys. Last week we had all kinds of weather-sun, rain, hail, and even a little snow. Did you see it? It only lasted a few moments and there was definitely not enough to even think about building a snowman. Some of you might remember a few years ago when we had so much snow we went out on the sledges. And do you remember what we had to warm ourselves up with when we came in? Yes! Hot chocolates.

Henry is still living at my house and has been on some more walks with us. Today I decided to give him a bath, so he has had a little spin in the washing machine and has come out smelling beautiful. Chester really likes Henry, and when he has a chance he sneaks him off to his bed.

As we aren't having any assemblies at the moment, I thought you might like to think of people in your house who deserve a JONK award. Maybe your Dad has shown resilience helping you with homework. Perhaps you and your siblings have worked as a team in collaboration. Or maybe you would like to think of your own awards to give.

I will write to you all again soon. Myself and the other adults at Language Group are missing you all.
