Headteacher's daily blog

Date: Thursday 14th May 2020

Dear all,

A lot of new documentation and risk assessment forms arrived today, resulting in me not yet being in a position to be able to provide the level of detail of information I had hoped to send out today to parents about schools re-opening to certain year groups. This will now be sent out on Friday together with a survey requesting that parents / carers give some sort of indication whether they intend to send in their children to school after half term. This will give me crucial information so we can start to organise groupings and rotas. More details will follow later today or tomorrow.

Wishing you all the best,

Mr Henery
